

The Indy Star has a nice little blurb today about Congressman Pence's iPod:

...Rep. Mike Pence's three kids recently gave him an iPod to help him stay cool. Pence's hipness, however, is determined not just by having the portable audio player, but also by what he's listening to.

Country music lovers will approve of Pence's jamming to Rascal Flatts and Toby Keith. But we doubt the London Symphony Chorus will establish Pence's cool credentials....
